DEATH OF REEBLE

Was Done.

Youngstown, Pal. May 10.—Dan Reeble, Jr., met death here in June. 1895. He was found at night, lying on the sidewalk in front of the house in which he resided, living, but unconacious. No one was in sight. Reeble had been in the habit of sitting on his window-sill before retiring. No one had been suspected of knowing the exact manner of his death. Dan Shea, mentioned by Boyle, was a 8a-loon-keeper here, and died about two years ago.

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even sturn after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S.S. S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S.S. has cleaned the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S.S. S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. equally brief, was made by George W. Watts, of Durham, N. C., chairman of the board of trustees.

Mr. Munce read a financial statement, setting forth that the building cost in round figures $43,000, of which $26,000 has already been raised. Mr. Borden followed with an earnest appeal to the Presbyterians of the city to be prompt in paying the rest of the amount, so that the debt may be discharged at the earliest possible date.

The reception which followed, closing the exercises of the evening, was a most enjoyable affair. Light refreshments were served after the building had been inspected. what we want on the Pacific coast for our lead ore and our citrus fruits, and we will tickle the people of New England and give them what they want on their cotton goods. But the people who stand between these two elements are being ground between the upper and lower milistones. We are willing, however, to accept reasonable reductions on our products, but how is it with the rest of you?"

Voted Beveridge Down.

After the vote on the Cummins resolution are Beveridge moved to reduce the discential one-quarter of a cent, and spoke at length in support of his motion.

A controversy arising over a suggestion by Mr. Cullom that he would pair with Senator Aldrich said he knew that Mr. McEnery would vote against the Beveridge amendment.

"Mas the Senator Aldrich said he knew that Mr. McEnery would vote against the Beveridge amendment.

"As the Senator a right to make that statement?" asked Mr. McLaurin, voicing a protest among Democrats against having a Democrat paired under such circumstances.

"I feel that I have full authority to make that statement?" replied Mr. Aldrich. Ayes and noes then being called on Mr. Beveridge's amendment, it was defeated by a vote of 37 to 46.

The committee provision axing the rate on pig lead and kindred leads at 21-8 cents a pound, was then adopted by a viva voce vote.

On the House Side.

On the House Side.

The principal changes made by the House Committee on Ways and Means in the Philippine tariff bill are explained in the report submitted to Me House to-day by Representative Payne, of New York.

It stated that the new tariff for the islands becomes necessary on account of the free trade provisions of the Payne bill, which will deprive the insular government of about $1,000,000 of revienue.

The export duties on Manila hemp. copra, tobacco, sugar and shells, which yielded a revenue of $74,3983 in 1998, are re-enacted in the new bill, although, as Mr. Payne states, an export duty is foreign to the policy of the government of the United States, and is prohibited by the Constitution.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—Six thousand pages of testimony taken by the Senate-committee in the investigation of the "shooting up" of Brownstille, on the inght of August 13-14, 1900, are to be condensed into a synopsis covering 500 pages. This is to be the summer's work of the court of army officers appointed by the President to buss upon the qualification for re-enlistment of the 187 soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry who were discharged without honor as a result of that afray.

The court will endeavor to locate all the men discharged, and to asserting their wishes with regard to re-enlist-ment.
